

INTRODUCING...

Style – It's Not Just For Other Women Anymore

by Lindsay Burns

Happy "End-of-March, beginning of summer" to you all!!! My name is Lindsay and I am a personal stylist. I go to my clients' homes and help them RUTHLESSLY clean out their closets, organize their wardrobes and teach them how to dress and accessorize their "assets"!! I will be writing a monthly column for VegasParent.com, entitled "Style – It's Not Just For Other Women Anymore" which will also provide a question and answer forum – click here to email me!

Well, spring is definitely here and, in typical Las Vegas style, it's also almost over!!! If you haven't buffed up your spring wardrobe to reflect the most stylish "YOU" possible, here are a few tips.

1. Nothing says spring like a crisp white button down shirt. (And since white stains and yellows, buy an inexpensive one and replace it next year!)

2. Can't run after kids and coworkers in heels? Every store from Target to Neiman's has loads of cute or chic flats – liven up your jeans and Ts with pairs in floral, animal print or patent leather (especially yellow – spring's hot color!!!)

3. Add a dash of glamour to everyday clothes with an INDESTRUCTIBLE lucite cuff bracelet or a pair of filigree drop earrings – check 'em out at the kid-and-dog-friendly District!

That's it for now, my savvy friends! Remember – "Trend is 'today', style is 'forever'!!"